The New York Alliance for Careers in Healthcare (NYACH), in collaboration with the Lehman College School of Continuing and Professional Studies, Greater New York Hospital Association (GNYHA), and the NYC Department of Small Business Services, is launching a second round of the RN Transition to Practice (TTP) Program for newly licensed RNs.

The Program
Participants will participate in 30 hours of training and instruction per week for six months, including:

- 24 hours per week (two 12-hour shifts or three 8-hour shifts) of hands-on clinical training under the supervision and guidance of a preceptor (experienced RN) at a participating hospital
- 6 hours per week (one day) of classroom instruction and simulation training with a focus on the development of critical thinking, communication, leadership, and research skills at Lehman College in the Bronx

Participants will be matched with a clinical training site based on their specific hospital unit of interest, mutual preference between the participant and hospital, and program need. Currently, four hospital systems with sites across Manhattan and the Bronx are participating in the TTP program.

Program Eligibility
Applicants must meet the following criteria:

- Be a New York City resident and 18 years of age
- Be authorized to work in the U.S.
- Be a licensed RN in New York State with a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) from an Accredited College or University
  - Have passed the NCLEX-RN examination
  - Have held an RN license for at least 6 months
- If currently employed in a non-RN position, do not earn more than $63,928 annually
- Have a current BCLS/ACLS certificate that is valid for the entirety of the program period
- Possess health insurance and medical liability insurance as an RN for the maximum coverage available and submit proof of purchase of malpractice insurance
- Meet all health requirements, and provide supporting documentation, if any, required by the participant’s clinical work site

If eligible, participants in the program will receive an educational stipend of $8,640, payable over the course of the six-month program period. For more details, please refer to ‘Participant Terms and Conditions’ online (see link below).

How to Apply:
Please visit www.lehman.edu/rntransitiontopractice or www.nyachnyc.org/initiatives/nursing for the program application and additional information.

For more information, contact Alis Zakarian, Director of Workforce Education at alis.zakarian@lehman.cuny.edu.