

LEHMAN COLLEGE NOW
COMPUTER SYSTEMS &
COMPUTER SCIENCE COURSES
SPRING 2017
PLACEMENT EXAM FOR CMP 167
JANUARY 10 & 11 (registration required)

The U.S Department of Labor projects that by 2020, there will be 1.4 million computer specialists job openings in the U.S and universities are only expected to produce enough qualified graduates to fill 29% of these jobs.

The Lehman College Now Program is offering qualified high school students the opportunity to take college credit courses in either:

- 1) CIS 211: Computer Information Systems (T/Th, 4 credits) or
- 2) CMP 167: Programming Methods I (T/Th, 3 credits)

What is the difference between Computer Information Systems (CIS) and Computer Programming (CMP)?

CIS focuses on the practical applications of computers in a work environment than Computer Science does. CIS courses are about learning how to take computer technology and put it to use in commercial environments and what type of technology should be used to solve business problems. CMP focuses on teaching programming and computing. It is meant to give professionals foundational skills that can be applied towards any career in coding.

Students must be in 11th or 12th grade in spring 2017 and have successfully passed the ELA Regents Exam with 75+ and one of the NYS Common Core mathematics regents with 70+. PLACEMENT EXAM REQUIRED FOR CMP 167 (See registration info below). Students who want to register for CIS 211 must attend a designated College Now registration session with a copy of HS transcript for proof of academic eligibility.
