Note: This indicator is calculated by dividing the total number of student (instructional) FTEs in courses taught by full time faculty by the total number of student (instructional) FTEs in all courses for both the fall and spring semesters of a given academic year.

teaching is part of their contractual workload (in which case, instructional FTEs are added to both the numerator and the denominator). Other winter session sections are excluded. Instruction is credited to the faculty member's college of appointment except for those appointed to the Graduate Center, the School of Journalism, and the Law School; their teaching is credited to the college where instruction took place. College Now sections are excluded from these calculations.
